The screenshot shows the Onport software interface with a sidebar on the left containing navigation options like Home, Sales, Inventory, Transfers, Stock takes, Replenishments, Adjustments, Contacts, Integrations, and Setup. The main area displays a table of 'Feed Items' for 'AMANDA'S RECORDS'. A green notification bar at the top states: 'This feed was last synced an hour ago and will be synced daily.' The table lists five items:

Do you manufacture your own on-demand items, or a line of products to be drop shipped via multiple stores and marketplaces? You may find it tricky combining and automating everything into a single system.

Thankfully, Onport can simplify the process entirely by providing you and your retailers with automated inventory feeds that can help keep your retailers and clients up to date with currently inventory levels, availability and pricing.

This can help to reduce issues such as orders which can't be fulfilled and keep your operations running as smoothly as possible.
